

RAINE

IN THE UNDERLANDS

THE LOREKEEPERS: BOOK ONE
E M GREVILLE

FAMILIES CAN BE TRICKY...

Especially when your dad is missing, your mum is hiding a BIG secret and a strange woman – who looks oddly familiar – is trying to steal your magic from you, which you don't even know you have because no one EVER tells you ANYTHING...!

When Raine spontaneously shoots a blue flame from her finger and breaks a window, even she can't deny the magic running through her. Being banished to the basement and finding a cursed baby dragon means life is about to change.

Forever.

But Raine's powers serve a prophecy and dark forces are gathering... With her unreliable magical encyclopedia and a group of weird and wonderful allies, can she find out what happened to her father, fulfil her destiny and still save the world?

How hard can all that be?

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

E M Greville is an award-winning short fiction writer and freelance editor. An ex-English teacher from England with an MA in Literary Criticism, she trotted around the globe before settling in Victoria. She can usually be found herding children, chooks and cats, and scribbling brilliant story ideas on scraps of paper, which she promptly loses and blames on the badly herded children, chooks and cats. She is passionate about helping kids discover a love of reading and writing, and explores the world of words through school visits, presentations and writing workshops. She promises to leave the wild creatures at home.

A CONVERSATION WITH THE AUTHOR

WHAT PERIOD OF A LIFE DO YOU FIND YOU WRITE ABOUT MOST OFTEN?

I love writing about and for kids. I think children are innately brave, because the world is new and exciting and still an adventure, so they're more likely to take a risk or suspend their disbelief. This means you can write about crazy or silly things, or have your main character do something brave and dangerous, and kids will get it. They are naturally on board. Whereas an adult reader might put themselves in the character's shoes and think "Oh no, I wouldn't agree to go and fight an evil sorceress, she might turn me into a frog. Someone else can do it."

HOW DID YOUR IDEA FOR RAINE IN THE UNDERLANDS COME ABOUT AND WHAT ARE YOUR PLANS FOR FUTURE BOOK/S?

I love fantasy and humour so it was natural for me to write in that vein. The characters, even though the setting is fantastical, are every day, flawed people who readers can relate to, despite their magical natures.

There are at least two more The Lorekeepers books planned, a YA ghost story is burning a hole in my brain and there's definitely an adult fantasy knocking around in my head as well.
