FRESH FROM THE DUST IS AN ENRICHING AND DETAILED STORY OF PEOPLE STRIVING TO SURVIVE...

Fresh from the Dust transports us into the West Australian outback during the early stages of the Second World War, where Steve Robinson has had a severe blow to his head, causing amnesia and epilepsy. This tragic event spurs painful consequences for himself and his family.

Steve's wife, Irene, does her best to carry on, but finds herself caught between her husband who is now a different person since the accident, to the diverse range of people she encounters while she navigates her way through the western side of Australia.

Steve's accident sets off a chain of events that makes Fresh from the Dust an enriching and detailed story that runs deep with an array of complex characters.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Having an unusual history, yet a positive outlook, Dorothy has many experiences to draw on to satisfy her high level of creativity. She was a substitute teacher at age twelve, an accountant at age seventeen, excelled in postgraduate nursing in four areas, an artist winning many prizes, art teacher, violin teacher, played the violin, viola and mandolin in several orchestras, established four organisations and created and sold language products.

Dorothy volunteered as a counsellor to prisoners and has been a public speaker and preacher. Dorothy has been in extreme danger several times, but through faith, has been miraculously spared.

DOROTHY HOLMES

A CONVERSATION WITH THE AUTHOR

WHAT ARE YOUR PLANS FOR FUTURE BOOKS?

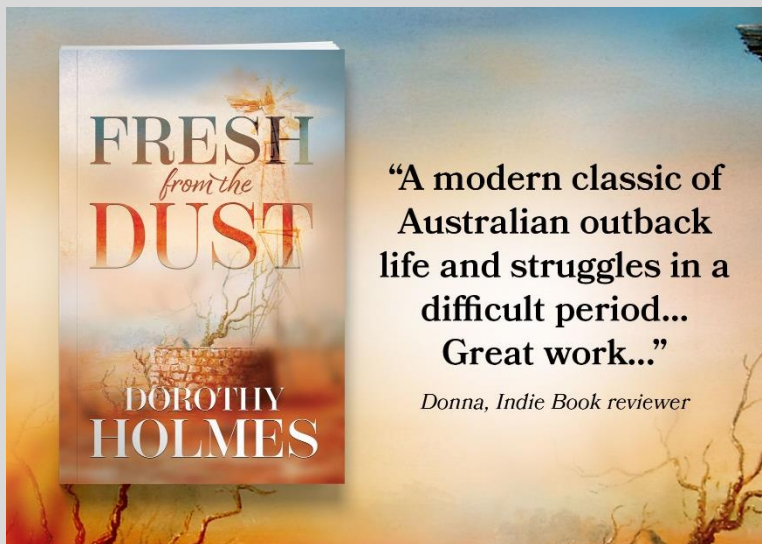

To continue to write, advertise a play and finish two books. I need to edit over forty short stories about miraculous experiences. Many have read my short stories and are asking for more. I also have plans for a collective book with contributions by several authors including myself to be published.

IF YOU COULD TELL YOUR YOUNGER WRITING SELF ANYTHING, WHAT WOULD IT BE?

Study, be well prepared, be your best critic, test the subject by estimated how much the author enjoyed the script. Open up your imagination, be inventive, research, never say "That will do", unless it is highly satisfying. Pretend that you are the reader. Listen to your editor, but don't be dominated.

WHAT DOES LITERARY SUCCESS LOOK LIKE TO YOU?

Proof that my writing is worthwhile which will encourage me to enjoy writing more and relating on a different level to the reader.
