MIKE HARRIS

Mike Harris grew up in Australia. He earned a bachelor's in engineering, with a focus on designing technology, at the University of Queensland. He has lived and worked in many places since, as a project engineer, community worker, technology trainer, and vocational education manager, though his finest achievements are his two sons who run the best café in Adelaide. A health scare brought about many radical changes in his life. One of them was becoming a storyteller. 'The Dream Walker' is his first written story.

THE DREAM WALKER

Joshua Livingstone is an everyday guy whose life is quite ordinary until he meets his dream girl, Helen Keane.

As crazy dreams permeate his life, he learns that what he does in his dreams is having an effect on his conscious reality. He knows he's in trouble when people start to die, and the world around him spins out of control. And that's because Hector Schmidt, known as 'The Dream Doctor', can also travel through Joshua's dreams.

And he is not merely a misunderstood mastermind but also psychopathically unhinged.

As the two dream walkers grow aware of each other in the realms of sub reality, they become entwined in an ever-tightening infinity loop crossing between dreams and reality from which only one of them can survive.

When Josh faces his destruction at the hands of Hector's unbelievable dream-power, does he comprehend the dangerous mechanics of dream walking and begins to fight back to save himself but most of all...Helen, the woman he loves.
