JARROD JONES

Jarrold Jones is a new to the writing game. Although always wanting to do writing he could never find a way for the stories to reach the written page. After the arrival of his first child and the move to the south coast NSW he found the inspiration he needed when a crazy flock of cockatoos kept pestering him.

Although this is his first book, he finds the inspiration to keep on writing.

MADNESS IN THE MOUNTAINS

We all have a cockatoo story...

This is our story.!

We moved from the city to the mountains, where we expected to enjoy and embrace a peaceful life with nature.

Who knew the Madness that would follow...?

We met our neighbours early in the moving process... A large flock of Cockatoos, a family of large, very noisy parrots!

Some interesting Cockatoo facts we learned:

Cockatoos are left-footed.

In captivity, Cockatoos live as long as humans.

The word 'cockatoo' has its origins in Malay and means 'vice' or 'grip' because of their incredibly strong beak.

These noisy birds feed on berries, seeds, nuts and roots.

They're equally at home in the city and in the bush.

They poop on everything around them!
