ABOUT THE AUTHOR

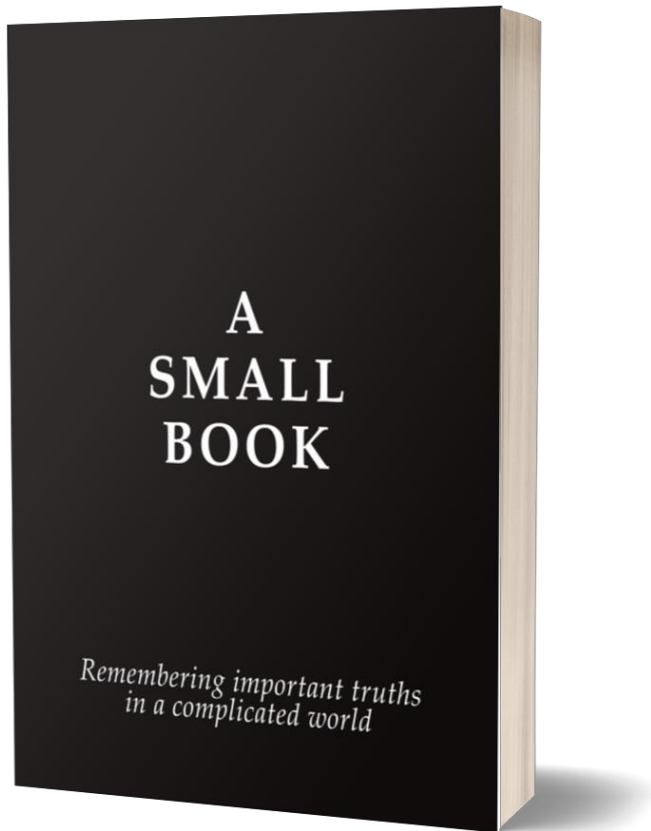

Watching people suffer compelled B Nester to offer this small book as a reminder to anyone who reads it that inside each and every one of us lies a secret power, that sometimes even knowingly, we disregard at our peril.

Feeling driven to remind people of this, and empower them once more in an uncertain world, life was given to A Small Book.

A CONVERSATION WITH THE AUTHOR WHERE DO YOU GET YOUR INSPIRATION OR IDEAS FROM?

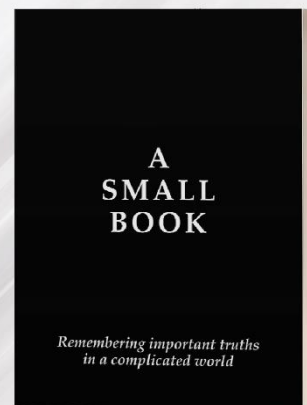

All around me and from within myself. We are at a point in human evolution where it's all been said before in some manner. The point, from my perspective, is to say it in your own way and in a way that allows more accessibility to more people.

HOW LONG ON AVERAGE DOES IT TAKE YOU TO WRITE A BOOK?

If it flows, weeks to months. The more time-consuming work is the tightening, cutting, re-arranging, and correcting.

WHAT LITERARY PILGRIMAGES HAVE YOU GONE ON?

After reading anything I could get my hands on from a young age, I discovered, after a stint reading fantasy genre as a teenager, that truth is stranger than fiction. I endeavoured to read as much autobiographical, historical and books related to Australians at war as I could. This evolved into enlarging my library to books on philosophy and the human state and religion.

*Compact and to the point,
this book changed the way
I looked at my life...
It helped me to be truthful to myself first and be compassionate to others...*
