

TIME SLICER

ROGER CHAPPELL

IT'S NOW 2052.

The grains of sand still falling from his fingers now cling to each moment; their fall becoming slower with every beat that pounded within his chest...

Isaac used to be an ordinary guy.

But then things started happening, and he found he was part of an elite group of people who have the ability to time travel.

They call themselves 'Time Slicers'.

Isaac is different to the others.

His abilities are growing stronger which help him when confronted by the 'Cleaners' and there's one other problem: he in the wrong timeline. He knows if he doesn't find a way back, he may never be born.

The power of a single moment holds the key to time.

"Stylish and absorbing for a Sci-Fi lover to immerse in and for new readers to discover a great story, well-written characters and clever thought-out plot twists...exceptional..." Brad, indiebook reviewer

AUTHOR BIO

Roger Chappell was born in the English coastal town of Eastbourne. At age three he was living on the French island of Guernsey and at age five he had moved to New Zealand. By age six, his home was Tasmania, Australia.

After finishing school, he moved to Brisbane, Queensland and in 1999, he co-created the company Media Two Web Development. He met his wife in Norway in 2006. She moved to Australia in 2007 and they married in Seattle in 2010. They had their first of three children in 2016.

During all this time, his stories wrote themselves in his mind, until one day, they started to climb out and onto the screen.

ROGER CHAPPELL

A CONVERSATION WITH THE AUTHOR

WHY DID YOU WRITE 'TIME SLICER'? WHAT WERE YOUR INSPIRATIONS?

I love time related stories, and the ones I have read always frustrated me or seemed a bit boring.

HOW HAD YOU DECIDED ON THE BEST CHARACTERS FOR THE BOOK?

For me, that's not how stories are written. The characters grow from the story, rather than the other way around.

WHAT RESEARCH DID YOU DO TO SUPPORT THE SCIENCE IN 'TIME SLICER'?

I researched new battery tech, and possible ways that time travel might be able to work. The sponge idea with tiny wormholes is a real theory.

WHERE DO YOU GET YOUR INFORMATION OR IDEAS FOR YOUR BOOKS?

I start by thinking "what if..." and then let my imagination do the rest. I.e., What if... every time you walked out of your house, you passed through a gateway to a different reality, but had no idea, so at home you live in one world, and when you go out for walks, you exist in another, and have no idea they are separate or different. Until things start going wrong in one of them...

HOW DO YOU SELECT THE NAMES OF YOUR CHARACTERS?

I think of names and choose ones that feel right, taking into account when they were born, and which country they are from.

DO YOU TRY TO BE ORIGINAL OR TO DELIVER TO READERS WHAT THEY WANT?

I don't try anything; I just write what comes to me. The stories have their own life and direction, I just record it. I write because I want to create something. I've always liked creating things. In writing, I create a whole world, and control what happens. I don't write for readers.
