AS A RUNNER, HE STRIVES TO FINISH THE RACE BUT AS A MAN RUNNING, HE HOPES TO STAY ALIVE...

For Sebastian, running is his freedom and love as he competes in marathons and feels his body burn with every stride.

But his love of running will be his undoing as he flees from his family of dark secrets, straight into the waiting arms of a cult who desire his spirit for their own. On the horse stud owned by his grandparents, and where they operate a cult for followers who are lost souls amongst the inept world that forgot them, Sebastian will learn what he is truly made of and discover a love of horses he never knew.

Generations of Sebastian's family will clash over the dark secrets kept silent within all of them. Sebastian's mother, Connie, is desperate to save her son from her parents, recalling she had to leave long ago to save herself...

Sebastian's only saving grace will be the Arabian horse who will rescue him from a tragic accident and befriend him as no other creature has before. To find himself and to uncover the darkness hidden by his family, Sebastian must become lost in a hope he can survive and live his true passion once again...

"Gillian Wells has found her stride with yet another great novel of dark menace and intrigue, mixed with her usual gripping drama...exceptional work...you will get lost in LOST..." Abigail, Indie Book Reviewer

A CONVERSATION WITH THE AUTHOR

WHY DID YOU WRITE 'LOST'? WHAT WERE YOUR INSPIRATIONS?

I saw a programme on TV about missing persons and I thought "how awful for the family".

AS A CHILD, WHAT DID YOU WANT TO DO WHEN YOU GREW UP?

I wanted to write and own a string of Arab horses and a herd of jersey cows.

WHAT WAS AN EARLY EXPERIENCE WHERE YOU LEARNED THAT LANGUAGE HAD POWER?

I remember sitting with my father as a small child and reading grown up poetry.

DO YOU HAVE ANY SUGGESTIONS TO HELP OTHERS BECOME A BETTER WRITER?

Be true to yourself and write, write, write.
