

ALIEN TAKEBACK

KATE FERRIS

THE FOREST IS DARK; THE ENEMY IS DARKER...

Tyne and her team are fighting for their lives after having been sent in to clear the Nevada State Forest, where is an alien stronghold. When the aliens invaded, we weren't prepared.

Watching country after country fall under the strength of these invaders; we had to fight back.

The aliens now have hostages in the camps and Tyne fears none will be found alive.

For their own cause, will they make it back from this confrontation? And what will they actually uncover when in there? No one knows anything much at all on these merciless alien species. And even if they survive the battle in the forest, what does it mean for the rest of the world?

The days of fear must end and Tyne and her team are one of the few chances civilisation has left...

"A book of action and drama to fit the genre well with anew exciting voice of fiction...great read..!" Erik, Indie Book reviewer

AUTHOR BIO

Kate Ferris lives in Melbourne with her husband and children. Although dreaming of becoming an author since she was a young child, she found that time always ran away from her. This book took her the better part of four years to write but she enjoyed every moment of it and hopes that you enjoy it too. She says that this is the one she was meant to write first.

ALIEN TAKEBACK

KATE FERRIS

A CONVERSATION WITH THE AUTHOR

WHY DID YOU WRITE 'ALIEN TAKEBACK'? WHAT WERE YOUR INSPIRATIONS?

I wrote this book because it wouldn't leave me alone. I have always wanted to write, and I have always enjoyed it. But never had the courage to take it very far. This story came to me in a dream, one that ended up recurring for many months, one day I sat down and put pen to paper.

It grew from there; I just couldn't seem to be able to walk away from it. I started a few other projects while I was writing it, when I was having a hard time with it, or something wasn't working the way I wanted it to. But I always came back to it. It was like a friend you can't walk away from no matter how much they annoy you sometimes.

Sometimes I would wake up in the middle of the night and it would be there waiting for me. No matter how hard I tried I couldn't get back to sleep so I would write. I have grown to love my characters, even though sometimes they drive me insane, and don't always do what they are told (much like children) but mostly they just took care of themselves, and I was just along for the ride.

My kids are a big inspiration for me, especially my youngest, watching the little struggles that kids go through and overcome through perseverance always makes me smile and think, 'well if they can do it why can't I?'. My little people give me a strength that I never knew I had. It's something I think mothers will understand very well, this book has done that also (though obviously to a lesser degree).

HOW DID YOU DECIDE ON THE CHARACTERS FOR YOUR BOOK?

I don't know that I decided anything with regards to the characters, they pretty much came to me as whole, ready-made people, I just had to make other people be able to see them and feel them the way I did. It was difficult at times, and I sometimes still wonder if I did them justice. But they almost became like my friends. They became my little sisters and brothers.

I loved watching them grow as people and learn new things about themselves. Sometimes I felt as though they were completely outside of the story, and they were the ones telling it.
